

6 TRAITS CORPORATE LEGAL TEAMS VALUE

Thinking of moving in-house? Here's what actually matters on the inside.

COMMERCIAL THINKING

- ▶ It's not just about what the law says, it's about what the business needs.
- ▶ In-house lawyers must balance legal risk with commercial outcomes.

WORKING WITH THE BUSINESS

- ▶ You're part of the business now, not just an external advisor.
- ▶ Collaborate daily with sales, finance, HR, product, and leadership.
- ▶ Advice needs to be aligned, actionable, and fast.

3 FINDING PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS

Spotting risk is just step one. The real value is in proposing implementable, business-friendly fixes, to help the business move forward.

4 COMMUNICATING ACROSS TEAMS

You'll work closely with non-lawyers, often under pressure. Simplicity matters more than legalese. Build trust with clarity.

Move with purpose. Keep the business ahead.

5 BEING FLEXIBLE

In-house roles are broad, expect variety.
One day it's contracts, next day it's IP,
compliance, or governance.

Breadth and adaptability are key strengths.

6 COST AWARENESS

Budgets matter and so does urgency. Your advice needs to be timely, business-first, and cost-efficient. Long memos? Not always welcome.

"In-house roles are less about being perfect and more about being useful, timely, and business-aligned."
